HCPE Practice of Excellence Award

A Overview

In 2005, Jerry Hayes, OD’ 73 and his wife, Cris, established the Hayes Center for Practice Excellence (HCPE) at Southern College of Optometry. Dr. and Mrs. Hayes made a generous donation to create one of the first educational centers based at an optometric college dedicated specifically for the purpose of teaching current and future optometrists how to manage the business side of practice. The SCO Board of Trustees matched the gift to show its commitment to the endeavor. The HCPE Practice of Excellence Award is designed to identify and reward successful practices, recognize the achievements made by SCO graduates, and help foster joint relationships that benefit both the alumni and current optometry students.

The awards are divided into three sections based on the number of years of practice.

A panel of 5 judges consisting of 3 members of the Hayes Center for Practice Excellence Advisory Board, the Director of HCPE and Dr. Jerry Hayes will review all submissions and check for proper eligibility and truthfulness.

In the event the panel of judges determines that there are no qualified or suitable applications submitted for a particular category, then they may elect to refrain from selecting a winner in that category.

Any questions regarding the selection of recipients should be directed to HCPE@sco.edu.

B List of Awards

The awards are available only to SCO graduates who are founders of a private practice, or have purchased an existing practice in the last 10 years and continue to operate the practice as such.
